

Catastrophic Loss

The complexities of catastrophic and large injury claims necessitate a co-ordinated multi-disciplinary approach. Plexus Law has an established reputation for providing not only technical legal excellence but also innovative solutions to the challenges of managing these claims.

The Catastrophic team focus on finding an early resolution for Insurers by working integrally with the Parabis Group's award winning rehabilitation and adjusting practices, Argent. Offering a bespoke multi-disciplinary service at the outset ensures a thorough review of the evidential requirements, which assists in identifying how to effect an early agreement that is acceptable to both parties at an optimum cost.

The team embrace the key objectives of the Personal Injury Multi-Track Code and seek to enhance the same by exploring early mediation or ADR, where appropriate. The team have strong links with medical experts, senior Counsel and medical and vocational rehabilitation practitioners to offer a tailor made "holistic" approach.

The Plexus team work with clients throughout the complete lifecycle of the claim ensuring significant issues are resolved in a timely and cost effectively manner.

Proven Success

The team regularly deals with cases reserved in excess of £2 million and many where the settlement figure is significantly higher. Examples are Kirk v Walton (2009), Charles Baldacchino v West Wittering Estate Plc (2008), Parkes v Meridian Ltd (2007) and Mountford v Newlands School (2007).

The Team

The Plexus Catastrophic Loss Team comprises 11 specialist solicitors acting for a Local Authorities and Emergency Services. The team are deployed across the firms' offices in London, Croydon, Leeds and Colchester to ensure they can provide a national service.
